Yesterday Petey couldn't find the remote, somehow it had ended up in my work bag and I had it all day. I started thinking right away about when we all moved in our homes and how we use to prank one another and change each others channels! Those types of memories we will cherish and share with our children. I am thankful that Little Petey had the chance to spend time with you and he will carry on your name and Petey's name with honor and pride. I know that you are at peace and watching over the kids...
