I really regret not being here to view my brother Joe's services. I just found out Sunday, a week later, that my brother passed away. My brother Joe was my hero. When I was young he always took up for me when I had bullies picking on me. He taught me to take up for myself and not be afraid. When my brother went to Vietnam and he came back it really changed him, as I know it changed alot of people that went to Vietnam. My brother called me one Christmas Eve and he asked me "do you think I would go to hell for what I did in Vietnam?" and I said "no you already visited hell when you were there, and you did what any great American would do". My brother told me the best thing that happened to me was when I made a sign for him saying "Welcome home Joe". He told me that he would Always remember that sign. I want to Thank The Dodas for taking care of my brothers services. They are family to me and my family. I also want to thank Pastor Michael Brewer who also has been an inspiration to our family. Most of All I want to thank my niece Tina and her husband Jerry for being there for my brother and for the dedication that they gave him. God Bless you all for what you did. As one of my Dad's favorite songs stated "I'll see you again". Joe I will see you again in Paradise. Love, Mike, Ann and Family.

Joe was one of the first drivers on my account and drove containers for Drenning Trucking for fourteen years. Funky always made us laugh. He was an incredibly hard worker and always reliable. Joe I have missed you for the seven months you have been fighting this disease. I will see you again in heaven. Thank you for fighting for our country and for loving America.

Joe was a loyal driver of Drenning Trucking for 14 years. Bill still drives Funky's truck and it will always be his truck. Bob Dylan was his favorite and we think of Joe anytime we hear one of his songs. We enjoyed going to one concert with Joe to hear Dylan. We know the doors of Heaven have been open to Joe and he is now at peace. Our prayers are with the family.

Joe was a good business man and a great friend. For over 10 years, if I needed him for a task no matter how early or how late, How big or how small, Joe would make it happen. His easy way of dealing with the most stressful situation made us all understand anything is possible. Our friend is now out of pain, and we must feel pain on his passing. Joe was a good man and I know he will rest in peace, as he tried to live. We will miss you Joe. Jeff Hallyburton
