Bob, twenty-nine years ago, we got off to a rocky start; however, over the years our friendship evolved into a beautiful, trusting friendship...closer than most. I have so many memories to cherish. I remember how you loved music, especially the Beatles..movies, with westerns being your very favorite! You had such a big, big heart....always helping someone in need. We shared a great love of animals.....but you were the topper. You took care of all the feral cats around your workplace, always picked up a stray to find a home and even fed the local pigeons. That really ticked off your neighbors. LOL. Our shopping sprees were always an adventure. You were always behind the scenes cheering me on, praising me or just giving me comfort. I enjoyed each and every aspect of your fascinatingly funny story telling style. So misunderstood, even by those who loved you..I understood you no matter what. You will remain in my heart each passing day. A big gentle giant, Bob Haines. My best friend. Angie Kalandras
